Paper 1 Reading

February/March 2026MARK SCHEMEMaximum Mark: 80

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the February/March 2026 series for most Cambridge IGCSE, Cambridge International A and AS Level components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 26 printed pages.

PUBLISHEDGeneric Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptions for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

PUBLISHEDEnglish & Media subject specific general marking principles*(To be read in conjunction with the Generic Marking Principles (and requiring further guidance on how to place marks within levels))*Components using level descriptors:

- We use level descriptors as a guide to broad understanding of the qualities normally expected of, or typical of, work in a level.
- Level descriptors are a means of general guidance and should not be interpreted as hurdle statements.
- Where indicative content notes are supplied for a question, these are not a prescription of required content, and must not be treated as such. Alternative correct points and unexpected answers in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the knowledge and skills demonstrated.
- While we may have legitimate expectations as to the ground most answers may occupy, we must at all times be prepared to meet candidates on their chosen ground, provided it is relevant ground (e.g. clearly related to and derived from a relevant passage/text and meeting the mark scheme requirements for the question).

Components using point-based marking:

Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

- a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term).
- b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct.
- c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons...).
- d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used incorrectly.)
- e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities.
- f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
- g DO NOT require spellings to be correct, unless this is part of the test. However, spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion).

Annotations guidance for centres

Examiners use a system of annotations as a shorthand for communicating their marking decisions to one another. Examiners are trained during the standardisation process on how and when to use annotations. The purpose of annotations is to inform the standardisation and monitoring processes and guide the supervising examiners when they are checking the work of examiners within their team. The meaning of annotations and how they are used is specific to each component and is understood by all examiners who mark the component.

We publish annotations in our mark schemes to help centres understand the annotations they may see on copies of scripts. Note that there may not be a direct correlation between the number of annotations on a script and the mark awarded. Similarly, the use of an annotation may not be an indication of the quality of the response.

The annotations listed below were available to examiners marking this component in this series.

Question	Answer	Marks
1(d)(i)	Reread paragraphs 3 and 4 ('Her team ... the leaves.'). Identify two findings that surprised the researchers. Award 1 mark for each idea, up to a maximum of 2. • higher temperatures had a positive effect on giraffes / higher temperatures did not have a negative effect on giraffes • rainier seasons had a negative effect / wet seasons impacted giraffe survival rates negatively • higher vegetation greenness was associated with reduced survival of adult giraffes	2
1(d)(ii)	Reread paragraphs 3 and 4 ('Her team ... the leaves.'). Explain the reasons scientists gave for what they found out about giraffe survival. Award 1 mark for each idea, up to a maximum of 3. • rise in parasites • outbreaks of disease / heavy flooding • faster leaf growth reduces nutrients	3

2(a)(i)	Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words underlined: The shipping director hardly takes his eyes off the papers on his desk as Emil is guided into the office. Accept cloze responses that repeat all / some of the question stem with the correct answer • (the shipping director / he) barely looking (up) [line 1].	1
2(a)(ii)	Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words underlined: People creating spacesuits want to replicate the characteristics of giraffe skin. Accept cloze responses that repeat all / some of the question stem with the correct answer • (they want to) imitate (its/the) qualities (of giraffe skin) [line 5]	1
2(a)(iii)	Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words underlined: The sailor explains the general features of how they intend to get the giraffes off the ship. Accept cloze responses that repeat all / some of the question stem with the correct answer • (the sailor / he) outlines the plan for unloading [line 29]	1
2(a)(iv)	Identify a word or phrase from the text which suggests the same idea as the words underlined: Emil speaks his concerns to the zoo manager. Accept cloze responses that repeat all / some of the question stem with the correct answer • (He/I) voice(s) (his/my) misgivings [line 48]	1

2(b)(i)	Using your own words, explain what the writer means by each of the words underlined: That afternoon, I sit in the ship's library, sifting through documents estimating shipping costs, profits and loss, until I find the veterinary report. I make notes on the blood-pressure measurements recorded for one unfortunate giraffe before its voyage ended. • sifting: sorting / going through carefully / looking for something / discarding what is not required / searching / scanning	1
2(b)(ii)	Using your own words, explain what the writer means by each of the words underlined: • estimating: approximating / calculating / working out / suggesting the rough amount / giving an idea of / offering a guess at / predicting	1
2(b)(iii)	Using your own words, explain what the writer means by each of the words underlined: • recorded: written (down) / entered / detailed / listed / catalogued / logged / taken down	1

Question	Answer	Marks
2(c)	Use one example from the text below to explain how the writer suggests what Emil might be thinking and feeling during the ride in the lorry. Days later, I'm journeying onwards to the zoo in a lorry carrying four of the giraffes, including Snowstorm. Bemused schoolchildren on buses catch sight of the giraffes and wave. The woods we pass are increasingly dense, not the vast, open woodlands giraffes dream of. We rattle along bumpy back roads, avoiding bridges, turning north towards the mountains along the border. 'Slower,' I tell the driver. The narrow window in the back of the cab seems to frame the giraffes' captivity. Their eyes are shut tight. Use your own words in your explanation. Award 3 marks for an appropriate example with a comprehensive explanation which shows understanding of how the writer suggests what Emil might be thinking and feeling during the ride in the lorry. Award 2 marks for an appropriate example and attempt at an explanation which shows some understanding of how the writer suggests what Emil might be thinking and feeling during the ride in the lorry. Award 1 mark for an example with an attempt at an explanation which shows awareness of what Emil might be thinking and feeling during the ride in the lorry. The explanation may be partial. The explanation must be predominantly in the candidate's own words. Responses might use the following: • Bemused schoolchildren on buses catch sight of the giraffes and wave: children are puzzled and do not understand why the giraffes are there; they find it amusing to see the giraffes; insensitive to giraffes' suffering; even the children realise these creatures are out of context; sees parallels with innocence of giraffes who do not understand either • (The woods we pass are) increasingly dense, not the vast, open woodlands giraffes dream of: close vegetation; unsuitable for giraffes; contrast between the environment they are in now and where they need/want to be; sadness that the giraffes will be constrained • We rattle along bumpy back roads: being shaken in the lorry; noisy, uncomfortable, not showing care • (The narrow window in the back of the cab) seems to frame the giraffes' captivity: restricted space; like prisoners, vivid memory; can recall as if a picture; mocking • 'Slower,' I tell the driver: feels they are going too fast; worried about the giraffes' safety • Their eyes are shut tight: blocking out the scene; cannot bear to look; vulnerable – as if asleep; almost as if dead already; painful to see them like this	3

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Reread paragraphs 12 and 16. • Paragraph 12 begins ‘One hour later ...’ and is about the first encounter with the giraffes. • Paragraph 16 begins ‘Next morning ...’ and is about the morning’s activity at the port. Explain how the writer uses language to convey meaning and to create effect in these paragraphs. Choose three examples of words or phrases from each paragraph to support your answer. Your choices should include the use of imagery. Write about 200 to 300 words. Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer. Use the Marking Criteria for Question 2(d) (Table A, Reading) Notes on the task This question is marked for the ability to select powerful or unusual words and for an understanding of ways in which the language is effective. Expect responses to provide words / phrases that carry connotations additional to general meaning. Mark holistically for the overall quality of the response, not for the number of words chosen, bearing in mind that for the higher bands there should be a range of choices to demonstrate an understanding of how language works, and that this should include the ability to explain images. It is the quality of the analysis that attracts marks. Do not deduct marks for inaccurate statements; simply ignore them. The following notes are a guide to what good responses might say about the selections. Candidates can make any sensible comment, but only credit those that are relevant to the correct meanings of the words in the context and that have some validity. Alternative acceptable explanations should be credited. Credit comments on effects created by non-vocabulary choices such as grammar / syntax and punctuation devices. These must be additional to comments on vocabulary.	15

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Responses might use the following: Paragraph 12 begins ‘One hour later ...’ and is about the first encounter with the giraffes. Only credit comments on stylistic effect where these are explicitly linked to choices. Overview: overwhelming experience of encountering the giraffes in this context. • (I) stare, dumbfounded: fixed look, cannot take his eyes off them; unable to speak; incredulous; was not what he expected • (an) old zoo animal, weary, hunched: aged, tired and bent over, (almost) lifeless; cowed and lacking vitality; contrast of the diminished, tamed creature with these beasts • wild and so impossibly stretched that they seem to scrape the sky: untamed, extremely tall, as if extended artificially, seemed to reach so high they would be touching against the heavens/atmosphere • (Tarpaulins cover their crates, so only their necks and shoulders are visible like) enormous hand-puppets: huge marionettes, extremely large toys; material concealing their bodies; heads are the only part that show; unreal, controlled, no agency; boxed up like commodities; manipulated to entertain • (When they move) they flow as if underwater: smooth actions; rounded, rippling and slow motion, graceful; otherworldly • (like) slender trees swaying in a breeze: thin, elegant forms, unable to resist even a light wind; blown by even gentle gusts; young and potentially fragile; vulnerable; natural, delicate and beautiful • (The) smell of the giraffes is pungent: strong distinctive scent; powerful and bordering on unpleasant; inescapable; overpowering experience

Question	Answer	Marks
2(d)	Responses might use the following: Paragraph 16 begins ‘Next morning ...’ and is about the morning’s activity at the port. Only credit comments on stylistic effect where these are explicitly linked to choices. Overview: giraffes are transferred without sentiment or care. • (Next morning) unloading begins: moving the giraffes off the ship; matter of fact, business-like; treated as if conventional cargo/objects • (each animal is) harnessed and hoisted: shackled and lifted aloft; suggests lack of agency, • (Some giraffes) panic at the sensation of flying, kicking out: worried by the unnatural experience; feels wrong to them; frantic movement to escape / fight back; futile as not in control; demeaning • Swinging precariously (they’re lowered towards the barge): shifting from side to side / back and forth; out of control; dangerous manoeuvre (coming back down toward the river boat). • stare desperately back out to sea: poignant looks towards their homeland; want to escape; want to go back home; deep longing; yearning to return • shimmering hot with fear: heat is radiating from the scared giraffes; sweat is coming off the terrified animals; terror is so strong it is visible; painful and pitiful image; life-threatening • Squawking gulls hover overhead, mocking the new arrivals: noisy local birds (who can really fly) find amusement in ‘flying’ giraffes; taunting them; lack of empathy in creatures who live there (suggests same of humans) • they descend, legs flailing: not in control of their limbs as they are being lowered down; thrashing around, making wild leg movements as they desperately try to run, in vain • ‘Let them walk on air: they’ll never walk their continent again,’ he says sadly: the last vestiges of freedom/hope of escape are now lost; depressing finality of tone; pities the creatures

Marking Criteria for Question 2(d)Table A, Reading: Analysing how writers achieve effects

Use the following table to give a mark out of 15 for Reading.

Level	Marks	Description
5	13–15	• Wide-ranging discussion of judiciously selected language with some high-quality comments that add meaning and associations to words/phrases in both parts of the text and demonstrate the writer's reasons for using them. • Tackles imagery with some precision and imagination. • There is clear evidence that the candidate understands how language works.
4	10–12	• Explanations are given of carefully selected words and phrases. • Explanations of meanings within the context of the text are secure and effects are identified in both parts of the text. • Images are recognised as such and the response goes some way to explaining them. • There is some evidence that the candidate understands how language works.
3	7–9	• A satisfactory attempt is made to select appropriate words and phrases. • The response mostly gives meanings of words and any attempt to suggest and explain effects is basic or very general. • One half of the text may be better addressed than the other.
2	4–6	• The response provides a mixture of appropriate choices and words that communicate less well. • The response may correctly identify linguistic devices but not explain why they are used. • Explanations may be few, general, slight or only partially effective. • They may repeat the language of the original or do not refer to specific words.
1	1–3	• The choice of words is sparse or rarely relevant. • Any comments are inappropriate and the response is very thin.
0	0	• The response does not relate to the question. • Inappropriate words and phrases are chosen, or none are selected.

Note: All examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the texts.

Question 3

This question tests reading assessment objectives R1, R2 and R3 (15 marks):

R1 demonstrate understanding of explicit meanings

R2 demonstrate understanding of implicit meanings and attitudes

R3 analyse evaluate and develop facts, ideas and opinions, using appropriate support from the text and writing assessment objectives W1, W2, W3 and W4 (10 marks):

W1 articulate experience and express what is thought, felt and imagined

Question	Answer	Marks
3	Reread Text C, Emil and the giraffes, in the insert and then answer Question 3 on this question paper. You are Emil. After you leave the zoo, you decide to share your concerns about the giraffes with an animal welfare charity. The charity asks you to write a report. In your report you should explain: • how you were involved with these giraffes and your impressions of the people you met at that time • what worried you about the different stages of the giraffes' journey • why you feel this zoo is not a suitable place for the giraffes to live Write the words of the report. Base your report on what you have read in Text C, but be careful to use your own words. Address each of the three bullet points. Write about 250–350 words. Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer and up to 10 marks for the quality of your writing. Use the Marking Criteria for Question 3 (Table A, Reading and Table B Writing) Notes on the task Candidates should select ideas from the text (see below) and develop them relevantly, supporting what they write with details from the text. Look for an appropriate register for the genre, and a clear and balanced response which covers the three areas of the question, is well sequenced, and is in the candidate's own words. Annotate A1 for references to how you were involved with these giraffes and your impressions of the people you met at that time Annotate A2 for references to what worried you about the different stages of the giraffes' journey Annotate A3 for references to why you feel this zoo is not a suitable place for the giraffes to live	25

Marking Criteria for Question 3Table A, Reading

Use the following table to give a mark out of 15 for Reading.
