

Cambridge International AS & A Level

BUSINESS

9609/11

Paper 1 Short Answer and Essay

May/June 2021

MARK SCHEME

Maximum Mark: 40

Published

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2021 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™, Cambridge International A and AS Level components and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 17 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently, e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however; the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Social Science-Specific Marking Principles (for point-based marking)*1 Components using point-based marking:

- Point marking is often used to reward knowledge, understanding and application of skills. We give credit where the candidate's answer shows relevant knowledge, understanding and application of skills in answering the question. We do not give credit where the answer shows confusion.

From this it follows that we:

- a DO credit answers which are worded differently from the mark scheme if they clearly convey the same meaning (unless the mark scheme requires a specific term)
- b DO credit alternative answers/examples which are not written in the mark scheme if they are correct
- c DO credit answers where candidates give more than one correct answer in one prompt/numbered/scaffolded space where extended writing is required rather than list-type answers. For example, questions that require n reasons (e.g. State two reasons ...).
- d DO NOT credit answers simply for using a 'key term' unless that is all that is required. (Check for evidence it is understood and not used wrongly.)
- e DO NOT credit answers which are obviously self-contradicting or trying to cover all possibilities
- f DO NOT give further credit for what is effectively repetition of a correct point already credited unless the language itself is being tested. This applies equally to 'mirror statements' (i.e. polluted/not polluted).
- g DO NOT require spellings to be correct unless this is part of the test. However spellings of syllabus terms must allow for clear and unambiguous separation from other syllabus terms with which they may be confused (e.g. Corrasion/Corrosion)

2 Presentation of mark scheme:

- Slashes (/) or the word 'or' separate alternative ways of making the same point.
- Semi colons (;) bullet points (•) or figures in brackets (1) separate different points.
- Content in the answer column in brackets is for examiner information/context to clarify the marking but is not required to earn the mark (except Accounting syllabuses where they indicate negative numbers).

3 Calculation questions:

- The mark scheme will show the steps in the most likely correct method(s), the mark for each step, the correct answer(s) and the mark for each answer.
- If working/explanation is considered essential for full credit, this will be indicated in the question paper and in the mark scheme. In all other instances, the correct answer to a calculation should be given full credit, even if no supporting working is shown.
- Where the candidate uses a valid method which is not covered by the mark scheme, award equivalent marks for reaching equivalent stages.
- Where an answer makes use of a candidate's own incorrect figure from previous working, the 'own figure rule' applies: full marks will be given if a correct and complete method is used. Further guidance will be included in the mark scheme where necessary and any exceptions to this general principle will be noted.

4 Annotation:

- For point marking, ticks can be used to indicate correct answers and crosses can be used to indicate wrong answers. There is no direct relationship between ticks and marks. Ticks have no defined meaning for levels of response marking.
- For levels of response marking, the level awarded should be annotated on the script.
- Other annotations will be used by examiners as agreed during standardisation, and the meaning will be understood by all examiners who marked that paper.

9609 Paper 1 Specific Marking Principles

Marks are awarded for each answer when the following Assessment Objectives (AO) are met. The mark scheme for each answer indicates when and how each AO can be met.

AO1 – Demonstrate knowledge and understanding of business concepts.

The focus in Section A of the Examination Paper is on this first AO.

- (a) Questions 1, 2, and 4 will meet this AO using definitions and explanations of business concepts.
- (b) Question 3 provides an opportunity for the application and a more developed explanation of a business concept. The 4–5-mark level specifically provides for this more developed explanation.

In Section B of the Examination Paper

- (a) Questions 5, 6, and 7 still require supporting Knowledge and Understanding (AO1), but there is now a focus on Application (AO2), Analysis (AO3), and Evaluation (AO4). These skills are set out below:

AO2 – Apply knowledge and understanding of business concepts to general and specific situations and contexts.

- (a) Where a specific business or context is named in the question then the candidate is required to relate answers specifically to this business or context.
- (b) It is not sufficient to merely repeat the name of the business or the context.

AO3 – Analyse business problems, issues, situations and contexts, through a discussion and interpretation of evidence, debate, theory, impact and consequence, to produce reasoned and coherent arguments.

- (a) Level 3 answers will likely use terms such as – because, leads to, therefore, so that, as a result, consequently – thereby showing analytical development for AO3.

AO4 – Limited Evaluation is given

- (a) When an attempt is made, (probably in a concluding section of an answer), to address and comment on the value and validity of the previous analysis.
- (b) These comments may be quite brief and be more opinionated than reasoned.
- (c) A mere concluding summary of preceding analysis is, however, not evaluation.

AO4 – Evaluation occurs

- (a) When an answer comments on the validity/significance of previous analysis in an evidence based and reasoned way.
- (b) This often leads to the presentation of appropriate substantiated judgements, decisions, or recommendations.

Question	Answer	Marks
1(a)	Define the term ‘laissez-faire leadership’. • a relaxed / hands-off / laid-back approach (1) • less control / authority / supervision by managers (1) • employees trusted to take decisions (1) • employees have authority to initiate and complete projects / delegation (1) Sound definition 2 of the factors listed above (2 marks) Partial definition 1 of the factors listed above (1 mark) No creditable content (0 marks)	2
1(b)	Explain two disadvantages to employees of autocratic leadership. Answers could include: • The strict supervision might be demotivating. • A lack of ideas from the employees; they do not feel valued or trusted. • One-way communication; the ideas of employees are not heard. • A lack of motivation / job satisfaction / morale. • Less chance for employees to ask questions. • Less chance/opportunity for employee creativity. • Lack of trust between managers and employees. • Decisions only taken by hierarchy, do not reflect the business as a whole. • Accept any other valid response. Sound explanation of two disadvantages to employees of autocratic leadership. (3 marks) Sound explanation of one disadvantage to employees of autocratic leadership or a partial explanation of two disadvantages. (2 marks) Partial explanation of one disadvantage to employees of autocratic leadership or a list of two disadvantages. (1 mark) No creditable content (0 mark)	3

Question	Answer	Marks
2(a)	Define the term ‘market segmentation’. • an approach to marketing (1) • identifies different sub-groups within a market (1) • targeting different products to each market segment / type of customer (1) • segmentation might be due to age / social factors / income levels / geographic / sociological factors. (1) • customers with similar needs/characteristics (1) Sound definition 2 of the factors listed above (2 marks) Partial definition 1 of the factors listed above (1 mark) No creditable content (0 marks)	2

Question	Answer	Marks
2(b)	Explain two benefits to a business of market segmentation. Answers could include: • better able to target potential customers. • target only segments that have high demand to maximise profits. • marketing costs can be lowered due to more specific targeting. • marketing personalised to maintain brand loyalty. • different strategies can be used for different segments. • products/services can be designed/developed to satisfy very specific needs of a group of consumers. • businesses can possibly use price discrimination by charging different prices to different sub-groups/segments. • Accept any other valid response. Sound explanation of two benefits to a business of market segmentation. (3 marks) Sound explanation of one benefit to a business of market segmentation or a partial explanation of two benefits. (2 marks) Partial explanation of one benefit to a business of market segmentation or a list of two benefits. (1 mark) No creditable content (0 marks)	3

Question	Answer	Marks
3	Explain the advantages to a manufacturing business of using sale and leaseback of non-current assets as a source of finance. Answers could include: • Where a business sells an asset in order to raise finance and leases the same asset back from the new owner. • The business will have an inflow of money which could be large if the non-current asset is, for example, a building. This can be used to fund projects or equipment. • The business will still have access to and use of the asset after the sale, therefore the sale should not cause any disruption to the operation of the business. • The payment of regular lease payments can allow for ease of budgeting for a business. • The maintenance of the asset is usually taken over by the new owner, therefore reducing ongoing maintenance costs for the business when it leases the asset back. • Accept any other valid response. Effective explanation of the advantages to a manufacturing business of using sale and leaseback of non-current assets as a source of finance. (4–5 marks) Limited explanation of the advantages to a manufacturing business of using sale and leaseback of non-current assets as a source of finance. (2–3 marks) Explanation of sale and leaseback. (1 mark) No creditable content (0 marks)	5

Question	Answer	Marks
4(a)	Define the term ‘inventory reorder level’. • trigger amount / pre-set level of inventory (1) • where / at which point a business would place a new order for inventory (1) • allows time for new inventory to arrive before current stock runs out (1) Sound definition 2 of the factors listed above (2 marks) Partial definition 1 of the factors listed above (1 mark) No creditable content (0 marks)	2

Question	Answer	Marks
4(b)	Explain two advantages to a business of holding buffer inventory. Answers could include: • Allows a business to meet increases in demand. • It prevents shortages in the case of a late delivery or disruption of production of work in progress. • It allows a business to take advantage of bulk buying discounts that can significantly reduce the costs of inventory. • Reduces the effect of price fluctuations. • Accept any other valid response. Sound explanation of two advantages to a business of holding buffer inventory. (3 marks) Sound explanation of one advantage to a business or partial explanation of two advantages. (2 marks) Partial explanation of one advantage to a business of holding buffer inventory or a list of two. (1 mark) No creditable content. (0 marks)	3

Question	Answer	Marks
5(a)	Analyse the role of small businesses in a country's economy. <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Level</th><th>Description</th><th>Marks</th></tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>4</td><td>Good analysis of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.</td><td>7–8</td></tr> <tr> <td>3</td><td>Limited analysis of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.</td><td>5–6</td></tr> <tr> <td>2</td><td>Application of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.</td><td>3–4</td></tr> <tr> <td>1</td><td>Knowledge and understanding of the role of small businesses.</td><td>1–2</td></tr> <tr> <td>0</td><td>No creditable content.</td><td>0</td></tr> </tbody> </table> Answers could include: Knowledge and Understanding 2 marks • Clear understanding of the role of small businesses Application 2 marks • Reference to the role of small businesses in an economy Analysis 4 marks Small businesses: • contribute to the economic growth of the country • can react quickly to changes in the economy • are numerous in most countries • might employ a small number of people individually, but collectively create a lot of jobs • might provide goods/services that larger businesses do not e.g. personal services such as hairdressers, plumbers, electricians, car maintenance • sometimes grow into larger businesses and contribute even more to the economy • are located all over the country and not in one location like many larger businesses • will pay tax to the government which can then be used for e.g. improved infrastructure or education etc. • often service the needs of larger businesses • offer specialised products/services • might increase competition – perhaps leading to improved quality, lower prices. • Accept any other valid response.	Level	Description	Marks	4	Good analysis of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.	7–8	3	Limited analysis of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.	5–6	2	Application of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.	3–4	1	Knowledge and understanding of the role of small businesses.	1–2	0	No creditable content.	0	8
Level	Description	Marks
4	Good analysis of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.	7–8
3	Limited analysis of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.	5–6
2	Application of the role of small businesses in a country's economy.	3–4
1	Knowledge and understanding of the role of small businesses.	1–2
0	No creditable content.	0

Question	Answer	Marks
5(b)	Discuss the importance to an expanding business of effectively communicating its objectives to its workforce. <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Level</th><th>Description</th><th>Marks</th></tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>4</td><td>Effective evaluation of the importance to an expanding business of effectively communicating its objectives to its workforce.</td><td>9–12</td></tr> <tr> <td>3</td><td>Limited evaluation of the importance to a business of communicating its objectives to its workforce.</td><td>7–8</td></tr> <tr> <td>2</td><td>Analysis and application of communicating business objectives to the workforce.</td><td>3–6</td></tr> <tr> <td>1</td><td>Knowledge and understanding of communication / business objectives / workforce.</td><td>1–2</td></tr> <tr> <td>0</td><td>No creditable content.</td><td>0</td></tr> </tbody> </table> Answers could include: Knowledge and Understanding 2 marks • Clear understanding of communication • Clear understanding of business objectives • Clear understanding of workforce Application 2 marks • Reference to communication with a workforce • Reference to business objectives Analysis 2 marks • Business objectives: the aims or targets which a business sets that it will strive to achieve in the future. • Objectives can be broken down into divisional, departmental or individual targets, but they all work towards the overall objective of a business. • Communicating will aid the co-ordination of activities. • For communication to be effective the objectives must be understood. Managers must make sure that each employee understands what is required of them in order to meet the overall objectives. • Employees who do not know or understand what the business is trying to achieve are less likely to work towards that goal. • The workforce includes some levels of management – if they are not clear about the business objectives then their guidance to employees might lack the required focus. • Large/expanding business – many employees – can be difficult to communicate with large numbers of people. Some people might not get the information. • For large businesses, perhaps with many departments or different geographical locations it is essential that all parts of the business know exactly what they need to achieve and by what time in order for the business to succeed in meeting its objectives.	Level	Description	Marks	4	Effective evaluation of the importance to an expanding business of effectively communicating its objectives to its workforce.	9–12	3	Limited evaluation of the importance to a business of communicating its objectives to its workforce.	7–8	2	Analysis and application of communicating business objectives to the workforce.	3–6	1	Knowledge and understanding of communication / business objectives / workforce.	1–2	0	No creditable content.	0	12
Level	Description	Marks
4	Effective evaluation of the importance to an expanding business of effectively communicating its objectives to its workforce.	9–12
3	Limited evaluation of the importance to a business of communicating its objectives to its workforce.	7–8
2	Analysis and application of communicating business objectives to the workforce.	3–6
1	Knowledge and understanding of communication / business objectives / workforce.	1–2
0	No creditable content.	0

Question	Answer	Marks
5(b)	Evaluation 6 marks • A candidate should make a judgement as to the importance to an expanding business of effectively communicating its objectives to its workforce. • These judgements may be made at any point as well as in a concluding section. • The context is an expanding business. • Issues are identified that could make effective communication difficult and/or vital. • Attempt made to assess the importance of communication, not other problems of an expanding business. • Accept any other valid response.

Question	Answer	Marks
6	‘An accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a clothing retailer when planning to enter a new market.’ Discuss the extent to which you agree with this view. <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Level</th><th>Description</th><th>Marks</th></tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>5</td><td>Effective evaluation of the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a clothing retailer when planning to enter a new market.</td><td>17–20</td></tr> <tr> <td>4</td><td>Limited evaluation of the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a business when planning to enter a new market.</td><td>15–16</td></tr> <tr> <td>3</td><td>Good analysis of whether an accurate cash flow forecast is an important financial document for a business when planning to enter a new market.</td><td>11–14</td></tr> <tr> <td>2</td><td>Limited analysis with application of whether a cash flow forecast is an important financial document for a business.</td><td>5–10</td></tr> <tr> <td>1</td><td>Knowledge and understanding of cash flow forecasts / financial documents / entering a new market.</td><td>1–4</td></tr> <tr> <td>0</td><td>No creditable content.</td><td>0</td></tr> </tbody> </table> Answers could include: Knowledge and Understanding 4 marks • Clear understanding of cash flow forecasts • Clear understanding of financial documents • Clear understanding of entering a new market Application 4 marks • Reference to the importance of cash flow forecasts • Reference to the use of financial documents • Reference to a business planning to enter a new market Analysis 6 marks • Cash flow forecast is a prediction of cash inflows and outflows that the business knows will occur in the future and those that it can reasonably expect to occur. • It is a prediction of things that have not yet happened. • Other financial documents include income statement, etc. Most other financial documents are historic i.e. they record revenue, expenditures and asset values from a previous time period.	Level	Description	Marks	5	Effective evaluation of the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a clothing retailer when planning to enter a new market.	17–20	4	Limited evaluation of the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a business when planning to enter a new market.	15–16	3	Good analysis of whether an accurate cash flow forecast is an important financial document for a business when planning to enter a new market.	11–14	2	Limited analysis with application of whether a cash flow forecast is an important financial document for a business.	5–10	1	Knowledge and understanding of cash flow forecasts / financial documents / entering a new market.	1–4	0	No creditable content.	0	20
Level	Description	Marks
5	Effective evaluation of the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a clothing retailer when planning to enter a new market.	17–20
4	Limited evaluation of the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a business when planning to enter a new market.	15–16
3	Good analysis of whether an accurate cash flow forecast is an important financial document for a business when planning to enter a new market.	11–14
2	Limited analysis with application of whether a cash flow forecast is an important financial document for a business.	5–10
1	Knowledge and understanding of cash flow forecasts / financial documents / entering a new market.	1–4
0	No creditable content.	0

Question	Answer	Marks
6	• Cash flow forecasts are produced – - to predict any known or anticipated expenses with entering the new market e.g. advertising costs, staffing costs, transport costs - to plan for any expected changes in cash flows such as seasonal changes depending on the type of clothing sold by this business. - to set targets for the new market. Success of the move into a new market can be judged/measured by comparing the predictions in the cash flow forecast with what actually happened, to learn for the future. - to allow the business to undertake What if analysis of possible outcomes from this venture. - Arguments for the other financial documents: - The business is likely to need to know its working capital, retained earnings, profit margins etc. All of which are taken from the income statement. - A potential lender might want to see all financial documents to determine the financial strength of the business overall and not just the viability of the new market venture. Evaluation 6 marks • A candidate should make a judgement as to the extent to which an accurate cash flow forecast is the most important financial document for a clothing retailer when planning to enter a new market. • These judgements may be made at any point as well as in a concluding section. • The context is a clothing retailer. • Are other financial documents as/more important than a CFF? • Does the business need an injection of finance to allow them to move into a new market? • All financial documents have a purpose/usefulness. It is likely that all financial documents will be important in making such a move, but the cash flow forecast will give some idea of the cash flow outcomes of the new market but not the overall profitability. It might depend on what the new market is: is it a new geographical market, a new market in terms of demographic e.g. from clothing for children to adult clothes; from clothing for women to clothing for men. • A lot could depend on how different the new market is from the one the business currently operates in. • Accept any other valid response.

Question	Answer	Marks
7(a)	Analyse the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and welfare. <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Level</th><th>Description</th><th>Marks</th></tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>4</td><td>Good analysis of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and welfare.</td><td>7–8</td></tr> <tr> <td>3</td><td>Limited analysis of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and/or welfare.</td><td>5–6</td></tr> <tr> <td>2</td><td>Application of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and/or welfare.</td><td>3–4</td></tr> <tr> <td>1</td><td>Knowledge and understanding of staff morale/welfare.</td><td>1–2</td></tr> <tr> <td>0</td><td>No creditable content.</td><td>0</td></tr> </tbody> </table> Answers could include: Knowledge and Understanding 2 marks • Clear understanding of staff morale • Clear understanding of staff welfare Application 2 marks • Reference to staff morale and/or welfare in a business Analysis 4 marks • Staff morale refers to the level of confidence and enthusiasm that employees feel towards their place of work employers. • Welfare refers to the health and happiness of employees. • A business that takes steps to ensure that staff morale is as high as possible and that the welfare of employees is important to it, is likely to benefit from having a more highly motivated workforce. • When employees feel that their needs are important to their employers, they have increased enthusiasm for work / loyalty to the business and therefore a willingness to work hard for the business. • Employees might be more willing to suggest improvements to the workplace if they feel that their contribution is valued. • An employee who receives help and advice when needed is likely to be a more productive employee. A problem outside work can contribute to poor performance in the workplace. A business that helps to remove that external problem is likely to benefit. • Less labour turnover and reduction in time and money involved in recruitment and selection of new employees. • Less risk of damaged/poor reputation of the business. • A business focusing on staff morale and welfare is likely to make sure that all health and safety guidelines are followed therefore making employees feel safe in the workplace. Employees will also feel that their safety is important to their employers.	Level	Description	Marks	4	Good analysis of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and welfare.	7–8	3	Limited analysis of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and/or welfare.	5–6	2	Application of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and/or welfare.	3–4	1	Knowledge and understanding of staff morale/welfare.	1–2	0	No creditable content.	0	8
Level	Description	Marks
4	Good analysis of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and welfare.	7–8
3	Limited analysis of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and/or welfare.	5–6
2	Application of the benefits to a business of focusing on staff morale and/or welfare.	3–4
1	Knowledge and understanding of staff morale/welfare.	1–2
0	No creditable content.	0

Question	Answer	Marks
7(a)	• Staff morale can also be affected by employers paying attention to equality and diversity; all of which leads to employees having confidence that they will be treated fairly, regardless of gender, race, religion etc. This can make a business attractive to potential employees.

Question	Answer	Marks
7(b)	Discuss whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a hospital to satisfy the human needs of its employees. <table border="1"> <thead> <tr> <th>Level</th><th>Description</th><th>Marks</th></tr> </thead> <tbody> <tr> <td>4</td><td>Effective evaluation of whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a hospital to satisfy the human needs of its employees.</td><td>9–12</td></tr> <tr> <td>3</td><td>Limited evaluation of whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a business to satisfy the human needs of its employees.</td><td>7–8</td></tr> <tr> <td>2</td><td>Analysis and application of how a business could use the ideas of David McClelland to satisfy the human needs of its employees.</td><td>3–6</td></tr> <tr> <td>1</td><td>Understanding of David McClelland's ideas / managers / human needs / employees.</td><td>1–2</td></tr> <tr> <td>0</td><td>No creditable content.</td><td>0</td></tr> </tbody> </table> Answers could include: Knowledge and Understanding 2 marks • Clear understanding of the ideas of David McClelland • Clear understanding of managers • Clear understanding of human needs • Clear understanding of employees Application 2 marks • Reference to the use of McClelland's ideas • Reference to satisfying human needs Analysis 2 marks • Human needs: to be able to feed and clothe oneself; to have shelter (somewhere to live); to have some level of social interaction. Some people also desire social acceptance or respect of their peers/colleagues. • McClelland identified three key motivational factors: Achievement, Affiliation and Authority. • Achievement: some employees need to feel that their contribution to the hospital is recognised and appreciated. Workers who feel that they are fulfilling their potential within a hospital are more likely to feel comfortable and support the hospital. By recognising the achievements of employees and possibly rewarding them, their need for acceptance could be met. • Affiliation: meeting the needs of employees to feel a part of the hospital can be achieved by using focus groups to discuss ways of best dealing with any potential problems. Employees who feel involved are likely to have a more positive view of the hospital, while at the same time, working as part of a group can be meeting their need for social interaction.	Level	Description	Marks	4	Effective evaluation of whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a hospital to satisfy the human needs of its employees.	9–12	3	Limited evaluation of whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a business to satisfy the human needs of its employees.	7–8	2	Analysis and application of how a business could use the ideas of David McClelland to satisfy the human needs of its employees.	3–6	1	Understanding of David McClelland's ideas / managers / human needs / employees.	1–2	0	No creditable content.	0	12
Level	Description	Marks
4	Effective evaluation of whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a hospital to satisfy the human needs of its employees.	9–12
3	Limited evaluation of whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a business to satisfy the human needs of its employees.	7–8
2	Analysis and application of how a business could use the ideas of David McClelland to satisfy the human needs of its employees.	3–6
1	Understanding of David McClelland's ideas / managers / human needs / employees.	1–2
0	No creditable content.	0

Question	Answer	Marks
7(b)	- Authority/Power: Some employees need to feel that they have some input/impact on their work practices. If they are given some input into e.g. how changes will be implemented, then they feel some level of authority over the way the hospital is operating and adapting, perhaps in how patients are cared for. If they can be involved in a decision-making process, employees need for authority can be met as well as their human need of recognition and respect. Evaluation 6 marks - A candidate should make a judgement as to whether the ideas of David McClelland could help managers of a hospital to satisfy the human needs of its employees. - These judgements may be made at any point as well as in a concluding section. - The context is a hospital. - The extent to which the ideas of McClelland can meet the human needs of employees should be judged. - It can depend on the current approach used by managers in a hospital and the extent to which the employees are involved in discussion about any changes or issues facing the hospital. - McClelland's three factors can meet the human needs of employees, but it requires a level of involvement and trust on the part of the hospital managers. Accept any other valid response.	